

Harquus Platinum is:

- A resin-based paint made to look exactly like a tattoo
- FDA approved
- Can be removed with baby oil or 99% isopropyl alcohol
- Has no PPD: it does not penetrate or stain the skin
- Is a durable waterproof skin paint
- Is safe for children and adults
- Is used to safely, temporarily, create tattoos on actors for films

Harquus Platinum is a new improved product from Temptu. It is different from the previous harquus in the following ways:

- Harquus Platinum gives good coverage in only one coat: no need to apply twice.
- Harquus Platinum lasts a week under average conditions, longer if cared for.
- Harquus Platinum can be applied with a brush, like painting with India ink.
- You will need to clean your brushes and cup with 99% isopropyl alcohol.

To use Harquus Platinum:

Shake the bottle of Harquus Platinum and put about 10 drops into the bottom of a shot glass. Dip your brush in the paint.

Paint the Harquus Platinum onto the skin with a fine paintbrush. When you are finished, dust the paint with talcum powder. You can find talcum powder in any store that has baby care products. Use talcum powder, not cornstarch powder.

Brush away the excess talcum powder. Rub the skin with your hands until all the talcum powder vanishes, and all you see is a beautiful, waterproof, durable Harquus.

Clean your brushes and tools with 99% isopropyl alcohol.
